What is claimed is:

1. A method for setting keys of handset type computers and handset interfaces, wherein four special function keys [GA, G5, G6, OK] and [← ↑ ↓ → + - =] are used in the setting interface of various languages, the interface is used in various handsets so that each the handset has the function of text processing.

2. The method for setting keys of handset type computers and handset interfaces as claimed in claim 1, wherein the setting interface is built in a chipset and then the chipset is installed in a handset.